CAMPBELL SUSPENDED.

FINAL DECISION IN THE CELEBRATED DISBARMENT CASE.

ngs of the Judges on All the Counts-Noted Criminal Lawyer Found Gulity on the First Charge— Mulcted in the Costs.

CINCIVIATI, Feb. 3.—The announcement that a decision was at hand in the great disbarment case of Counsellor T. C. Campbell served to pack the court room in the Albany Bailding with an eager through, among whom the legal fraternity largely predominated, and when at length Judges Maxwell, Robinson and Comor took their seats the expectage of the council of the decision in his case.

The charges were then read scrientim and the decision on each repolered. Below they are summarized:

The first, called the J. H. Minnemeyer charge, was recited, the gist of the charge belong that Campbell, by threats and promises, and the charge of the c with them. The court found the charge not ratakinod.

Charge third alleges that Campbell made affidavit that Kline, one of the jurns in the Hoffman case, was not a client of his. The sestimony did not satisfy the court that better than the court of the court had done more to affect his creability than by anything else. The court never had any doubt that the bill was genuine. The fourth charge alleges that Campbell, with a view to defrand the Clintel States, by representing that one Thomas Mead was not felted recognizance of one William Manning. The testimony marrowel down to a single statement by (ampbell that Mead was not the man, and that was in a measure explained by other testimony marring that it was a single of his court of the court of the man, and that was in a measure explained by other testimony that it was a single of hand statement by compbell that fixed a single statement by compbell that Read was not the man, and that was in a measure explained by other testimony that it was a single of hand statement of a runner.
